BULGARIANS BURN

700 MEN IN MOSQUE

Saloniki, July 2.—Father Michel, superior of the French Catholic Mission at Kilkiah, confirms reports of massacres committed in that district by Bulgarian regulars.

In one instance they burned to death 700 men belonging to Kurkut by imprisoning them in a mosque, under which they exploded bombs, setting the building on fire. They had previously assembled the victims' wives and daughters to witness the spectacle.

Even more terrible scenes were enacted at Kilkiah, Planitsa and Ray-novo, women also being burned to death.

Father Michel asserts that among the irregulars responsible for these atrocities were business and professional men and students from Sofia.

SECOND DAY OF JACKSON TRIAL

STATE CONCLUDES AT NOON. COURT OVERRULES DEMUR- RER AND MOTION FOR INSTRUCTED VERDICT

Myrtle Summers corroborated the testimony of Mrs. Smith. Had seen Johnny Pirtle pass in company with another man, of whose identity she was not sure.

Henry Fulsom: Saw body of Pirtle; was lying rather on right side on muscle of arm and shoulder; left arm lying loose; legs a little bent; gun five or six feet from feet of corpse, eight or nine feet from hand; gun was at foot of small hickory stump; no marks on ground to indicate that it had been thrown there; more like it had been laid there.

Mrs. Annie Brown: Saw Pirtle pass house between 8 and 9 o'clock with another man riding gray horse; did not know who man was; did not know Jackson very well; had never seen him but once; heard two shots from direction they went.

Mrs. Pearl Posse: Saw Jackson pass house on way to gin; was riding iron gray horse; saw him about 11:30; was riding in fast trot.

Charley Posse: Was engineer at gin; saw Jackson at the store; was riding iron gray horse; asked him where he had been all week; said he had been out with Johnny Pirtle who was on a big drunk and never saw a man in such a fix; had tried to shoot Charley Thompson the day before; finally choked up and started off saying that he had had many a bawl over that boy; body lying on right side when found; wound not powder burned; was not very badly decomposed.

Isaac Fulsom: Was the one who discovered body and gave alarm; remainder of testimony corroborative of that of Henry Fulsom.

Henry Fillmore: About the same as Fulsom's evidence.

Bud Pirtle: Had secured gun belonging to deceased from Mrs. Jackson; was 45 calibre; contained six loaded shells, very badly corroded as though not used in a long time.

R. A. Hancock was objected to; objection sustained.

Tom Smoot: Had known Pirtle since birth; was right handed; saw Pirtle's body; examined wound; was in left ear; no powder burn; heard conversation with Jackson that night; asked Jackson where he was the day of Pirtle's death; said he would tell when he had to.

Jeff Pirtle: Was an uncle of John Pirtle; deceased was right handed; known Jackson several years; Jackson at home of witness on day of Pirtle's disappearance; had conversation with him; asked if he had seen Johnny Pirtle; told him we had not; said he was afraid something terrible had happened; Johnny said he was going to Chickasha; tears in Jackson's eyes; said he was greatly worried day before on account of scuffle with Thompson over gun; heard of death next day; Jackson had said he had been to Stratford; was riding gray horse; Johnny's gun was brought to witness about ten days after death; shells "cankered"; had to drive them out with hammer and nail; have nothing against Jackson; Jackson once assaulted witness; witness came to see county attorney about killing; he wouldn't have anything to do with it.

Frank Burnett: Jackson claimed gun found with Pirtle's body; said Pirtle borrowed it because he had no loads for his own.

Mrs. Jeff Pirtle: Corroborated husband's testimony.

Henry Fillmore: Heard Pirtle tell Jackson that he was going to live on his own farm next year where Jackson then lived; was going to marry.

Dr. S. P. Ross: Was called to examine body of Johnny Pirtle when exhumed June 24, 1913; found two holes in the skull; bullet hole in left part of head at top of left ear; found ball in back part of head; examined mastoid process on left side; skull crushed; another hole on right side of skull about an inch in diameter; bullet that entered left side could not have made it; bullet fired on left side ranged down and back; hole on right side caused by blunt instrument; ordinary powder will make a burn six or seven feet; don't think possible for man to shoot himself with 38-calibre gun without leaving burn; don't think man could throw gun several feet after shooting himself as Pirtle did; when shot about 7 out of 10 fall on side on which shot. In the cross examination the defense endeavored to show that the wound on the right side of the skull was from the bullet and not from a blow on outside, but witness would not admit it.

The state rested shortly before noon and the defense offered a demurrer alleging that the evidence was insufficient and asking that the jury be instructed to return a verdict of not guilty. After hearing argument on both sides the court overruled the motion and the trial was resumed.

Charley Posey: Had known Jackson several years; reputation good.

Rev. Tom Watkins: Had known Jackson ten years; reputation good.

Charley Burton: Had known Jackson about two years; reputation good.

Rube Burnett: Had known Jackson fifteen years, never heard any complaint against him.

Dave Hyden: Had known Jackson fourteen or 15 years; reputation good; had said Jackson should not be prosecuted.

John Sutherland: Had known Jackson twelve or thirteen years; reputation good; had taken considerable interest in case.

If you Value Your Eyesight, see An Expert Optician. I have spent 20 years preparing myself to perfect the refraction of the eye. My most complete equipment, backed by this long experience is your guarantee of satisfaction. A. D. COOK, Ramsey's Drug Store, Ada, Okla.

L. A. Braley: Had known defendant six years; reputation good.

Other character witnesses who had testified up to 3:15 were Ben Allen, George Roberts, Al Roberts, G. C. Arnold, Forrest D. Hale, T. J. Chambers and — Storm.

The defense is also trying to impeach the testimony of several of the state's witnesses. It has a large number of witnesses and if all are used the end of the trial is some way off. It was brought out in course of today's proceedings that an inquest was held over Pirtle's body and that there was considerable division among the jurymen, some holding to the suicide theory and others maintaining that the evidence supported a theory of murder.

CONSERVE MOISTURE BY FRE- QUENT SHALLOW CULTIVATION

Over the entire State of Oklahoma the ground is saturated deep down into the subsoil, and now that fair, warm weather is at hand, every farmer is anticipating a bountiful crop this year.

We have plenty of moisture now but we have not any assurance that we are going to continue to have it all during the year. The way to give crops moisture during dry periods is to store up this moisture in the ground during the wet periods. It can then be used by the plants during the periods of no rainfall.

If there is one thing that we would like to impress upon every farmer and truck grower in Oklahoma at this time, it is to put the lid on the moisture supply while we have it. We have just one way to do this and that is by cultivating the surface of the soil to prevent evaporation.

A blanket of loose dirt on the surface helps to prevent the escape of moisture which may be in the subsoil and which, in the form of vapor escapes continually unless prevented by a loose surface through which the vapor will not pass readily.

Every farmer should take a lesson from the dry, hot weather of the past two weeks, and should hold every little bit of moisture which falls by frequent, shallow, pulverizing cultivation. Take the long pointed shovels off of the cultivators, put the bull-tongue plow in the shed, use only the widest, flattest of sweeps or other implements that will pulverize the surface of the soil without cutting off the plant roots or opening up the soil so deep as to dry it out instead of retaining the moisture. Drag a weight between the rows, pulverize the surface and create a dust mulch; begin cultivation as soon after rains as possible. Hold the moisture when you get it, because you will surely get some moisture and almost certainly sufficient to mature drought-resistant crops if cultivation is properly done.

The principal thing to keep in mind is to pulverize the surface and DO IT NOW. Where crops are already planted, surface cultivations should begin as soon as the top soil begins to dry. Never allow a crust to form over any of the land you are cultivating.—Oklahoma State Board of Agriculture, Demonstration Farm Department, by D. S. Woodson, Superintendent.

L. S. CHILCUTT REPORTS CONDITIONS AROUND FITZHUGH

L. S. Chilcutt of Stevens-Wilson Co. returned from his farm at Fitzhugh Wednesday morning and makes the following report on conditions around that section:

Wheat will average 20 bushels per acre and about 12,000 bushels are being shipped out, with plenty left for seed.

Oats will average 50 bushels and about 30,000 bushels are being shipped, with great quantities being stored for feed and sale later.

About five cars of Irish potatoes are almost ready for the market.

Cotton prospects are excellent, but corn needs rain for a bumper crop, although will make fair yield without. Hay crop is pretty fair and preparing to cut. Quantities of forage crops, such as cane, kafir corn and millet, are doing nicely and the community is sure to have worlds of feed for the winter.

With prospects so flourishing, the bank as well as all the other business concerns of Fitzhugh will be in extra good shape.

The new hardware store in Fitzhugh is doing nicely, with prospects for building up a splendid business.

FRISCO ANNOUNCES TWO-CENT RATE

All railroads in Oklahoma will sell tickets at the two-cent rate after July 14. On that date at 12:01 a. m. the Frisco railroad, the last one of the trunk lines to comply with the recent agreement with the attorney general will establish the two-cent fare within the state.

The delay in the rearrangement of passenger tariff schedules was caused by the change of management since the road went into the hands of a receiver.

GARDEN SAGE DARKENS GRAY HAIR SO NATURALLY NOBODY CAN TELL

Restores Its Lustre, Prevents Scalp Itching, Dandruff and Falling Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. While it is a messy, tedious task it well repays those whose hair is turning grey, faded and streaked. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair and is the best thing known to remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody chooses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time which requires but a few moments. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair has disappeared and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant. It certainly helps folks look years younger and twice as attractive, says a wellknown down town druggist. Gwin & Mays Drug Co. Ada, Okla. adv.

THE PRISONER OF ZENDA

Remarkable Four Part Production by the Famous Players Film Co.

With this four-act film drama the producers have leaped to the pinnacle of moving picture fame at one gigantic bound. "The Prisoner of Zenda," as shown at the private exhibition in the Lyceum Theatre, bears a message of hope and cheer to every friend of the motion picture and vindicates, beyond all cavil, American supremacy in the world of films. We have seen a new standard in dramatic architecture for screen purposes and we have witnessed an ensemble of American artists, in whom their debut in the new art called forth the very best that was in them. Indeed, before I go any further, let me state right here, that the function of the critic now resolves itself into the difficult if pleasing task of a proper and orderly distribution of credits and tributes.

The direction of "The Prisoner of Zenda," I believe, was largely a work of intelligent and enthusiastic co-operation. The skill of a talented, experienced and ardent master of the silent drama is apparent at every turn. Mr. Porter knew the possibilities of his instrument and made the camera's conquest quite complete. He has disarmed and delighted the most captious of critics by the daring but entirely successful use of all those advantages which are peculiar to the motion picture and which the conventional stage can never hope to share. Take but one example. The judicious employment of outdoor scenes knitted the splendid story in-

SHE GAVE UP ALL HOPE

Physicians Failed To Help Mrs. Green, But She Finally Found Relief in Cardui.

Meetez, Va.—Mrs. J. C. Green of this place, says: "I suffered with womanly troubles so that I could hardly sit up. Two of the best doctors in our town treated me, and I tried different medicines, until I gave up all hope of ever getting well."

One day, I decided to try some Cardui. It did so much for me that I ordered some more, and it cured me! Today, I feel as well as I ever did in my life.

The pains and the trouble are all gone. I feel like another person in every way. I wish every sufferer could know what Cardui will do for sick women."

A few doses of Cardui at the right time, will save many a big doctor bill, by preventing serious sickness.

It tones up the nervous system, and helps make pale cheeks fresh and rosy. Thousands of weak women have been restored to health and happiness by using Cardui. Suppose you try it. It may be just the medicine you need.

to a rapid and continuous whole, of which neither novel nor stage can give us even the shadow of a conception. The audience, mostly composed of theatrical people and perhaps somewhat inexperienced in moving picture work, was quick to appreciate these advantages of the new invention and broke into applause whenever the action of the drama was carried on in the theater of nature. To be sure all the outdoor settings were happily chosen, but the ordinary motion picture audience is well used to such settings and takes even the best of them as a matter of course.

INSURANCE RATE

MAN VISITS ADA

This afternoon C. T. Ingalls, general manager of the Oklahoma Inspection Bureau, held a conference with the business men of the city regarding the insurance situation. He recommended as a beginning that all trash likely to start a fire be removed from the alleys; that all wiring be looked after by a licensed wire inspector, and finally that the city purchase more fire apparatus. These are matters that must be attended to if the city is to get any better insurance rate.

Dean of Sacred College is 85.

Rome, July 9.—Cardinal Oreglia di Santo Stefano, the Dean of the Sacred College, reached his eighty-fifth birthday anniversary today. He is the oldest of the living Cardinals, as regards appointment, having been nominated to the Sacred College by the late Pius IX., and being now the only surviving Cardinal created under that Pontificate. Cardinal Oreglia was born in the diocese of Mondovi, July 9, 1828 and as a student at the Academy of Rome gained prominence in theology and language. He became a Jesuit novice, but did not continue in the Society of Jesus and was ordained to the secular priesthood in 1856.

Before Victor Emmanuel became king Cardinal Oreglia was his chaplain and was with the house of Savoy in that capacity for several years. For more than a quarter of a century now he has been a powerful factor in Vatican politics. It was his personal influence in the last conclave and his shrewd diplomacy that caused the election of the Patriarch of Venice to the Papal throne, and ever since the election of Pius X. he is known to have exercised extraordinary influence in the Vatican, and to have been the principal opponent of a liberal policy on the part of the present Pope toward the Italian government.

For some time past Cardinal Oreglia has been in very poor health, and because of his advanced age great fears are entertained in Vatican circles of an approaching collapse. The serious illness of both the Pope and the Dean of the Sacred College have combined to bring about a situation with regards to Vatican politics that is filled with interesting possibilities. In the event of the Pope's death the Dean of the Sacred College fills the vacancy until a successor is chosen. Should Cardinal Oreglia die the sub-dean, Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli, would become Dean, and would thus become the acting Pope in case of a vacancy of the Papal throne. The present situation is complicated by the fact that Cardinal Vannutelli is in high disfavor among those who stand closest to the Pope, chiefly because of his differences with Cardinal Merry del Val, the Papal secretary of state, and with his brother, Cardinal V. Vannutelli, his virtually retired to private life.

This evening the Majestic will present the eleventh story of the series, What Happened to Mary. This one gives an exciting race to New York. Hiram Buys an Auto, is a jolly comedy. Coming: The Prisoner of Zenda. This one features Jas. K. Hackett, the great actor, who made this play famous when first staged.

Fights Scheduled for Tonight.

MCDANIEL FAVORS SUING FOR TRIBAL FUNDS

In view of the fact that the Indians have usually had to fight for all they ever got from the national government, treaty stipulations notwithstanding, Wm. McDaniel proposes to make an effort to organize enough of the Chickasaws and Choctaws to bring suit for the tribal funds now held at Washington. Under the Atoka agreement these were to have been distributed long ago but until this good hour nothing definite has been done.

This is a question of great importance to all citizens of eastern Oklahoma. It would mean about $1,000 to each Indian to be used in improving their homesteads and preparing to live more comfortably, and also it would mean that more money would be turned loose in this section than at any time in its history, thus bringing unbounded prosperity for all parties.
